

EUROCLASSICA

Euroclassica is the European Association of teachers of the Classical Civilizations. This federation of the national societies of classical philologists of 24 European countries was created in 1991.

The objectives of the Federation are:

- to bring together all the associations of teachers of classical languages and civilisation in Europe in order to promote their cooperation
- to ensure the promotion and defence of the study of classical languages and civilisation, a unifying link and powerful factor of cultural cohesion among European countries, especially through representation at international organisations
- to assert publicly the contemporary importance of classical languages and civilisations
- to demonstrate the pressing need to teach them, fully respecting the autonomy of each country; to encourage cooperation with associations outside Europe which have similar aims.
