The 22nd Theoretical Roman Archaeology Conference will be held at Frankfurt University, Germany, from 29 March to 1 April 2012 together with the 10th Roman Archaeology Conference.

Proposals are now invited for conference sessions. Sessions are normally 3 hours 30 minutes long and consist of five presentations and a discussion. Those wishing to organise sessions should submit an abstract of no longer than 500 words on the proposed topic, content and aims, together with a list and contact details of the chair, two confirmed speakers, and the titles of papers. Each speaker included in the proposal must provide an abstract of no longer than 300 words of his/her presentation. Candidates are reminded that successful session proposals will be advertised to encourage other speakers to apply to join their session. An individual call for papers/posters will follow in August after the sessions have been approved. All submissions will go through a peer review process.

Proposals should be submitted by 25 July 2011. They should be sent by email to the organising committee contact@trac2012.com
